BONUS BILL NOW BEFORE LEGION

Proponents of Measure Force Adjournment After Debate

1921 IN NORFOLK

Majority of Committee Favor Bonus —Election of Officers to Bring Convention to a Close.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 4.—In the midst of a roll call demanded by opponents of a motion to suspend convention rules and put over discussion on the bonus bill until this morning with debate on both sides limited, majority delegates to the convention of the State department of the American Legion yesterday afternoon forced through a motion to adjourn, after having been in session little more than an hour.

This move on the part of the proponents of the bonus bill will throw the entire question, which is generally conceded to be the most serious piece of the business the convention faces, onto the floor today for a general threshing out.

What started out as a quiet session turned out to be considerable of an upheaval and little was accomplished beyond the passing of four resolu-

FLAG TO DESIGNATE THE MARSHALL HOUSE

A large American flag today hangs from a staff at old Marshall House, at the southeast corner of King and Pitt streets where Ellsworth and Jackson were killed, May 24, 1861 and there's a reason according to Robert F. Downham, of the firm of Downham and Ridgely, which firm occupies the first floor.

Mr. Downham says that all sightseeing automobiles passing the corner the guide, who evidentally is unfamiliar with Alexandria's historical landmarks yells through his big megaphone "On your right is the famous old Marshall House" pointing at the same time to the opera house, a more modern structure. The flag Mr. Downham says will indicated to the guide and tour ists the correct place and the tourist will not go away with the impression that he has seen the old Marshall House when as a matter of fact he saw the opera house instead.

FIRST BAPTIST CLASS OFFICERS INSTALLED

At a public meeting, held last night in the Sunday School room of the First Baptist Church, the newly elected officers of the F. I. R. N. Clark, assistant secretary; John Peed, treasurer; G. J. Minor, assistant treasurer. A. S. Markin, chairman executive committee, presided.

For Distribution

Questionnaires For Virginia War History Arrive—Church Honor Rolls

The War History Commission of Virginia has issued questionnaires which are now ready for distribution in Alexandria. These questionnaires will be compiled for a permanent record in the Virginia state library, where it will be filed as a memorial of the deeds of Virginia soldiers, sailors, and marine in the World War.

This work can only be accomplished by the hearty cooperation of the service men; the majority of whom are responding promptly and filling out their papers. Only by the participation of every service man in Alexandria can the city record be completed, and the military and naval service records made a part of the archives of Virginia.

The records made by the men who entered the service from this city stand second to none in the whole state, and Alexandria has every reason to be proud of the splendid body of men who responded to the call of duty during the recent war. Therefore it is hoped that these enviable records may be made permanent ones.

The following chairmen have been appointed to work on the honor rolls of the churches:

Methodist Episcopal, South, Mrs. Wm. M. Reardon; Trinity M. E., Rev. O. W. Reynolds; Second Presbyterian, Mrs. Wm. Campbell; Free Methodist, Rev. H. L. Kelly; Methodist Protestant, Fred. Ebhardt; St. Mary's Catholic, Mrs. M. R. O'Sullivan; First Baptist, Miss Saidee Pitts; Second Baptist, Mrs. James A. Halfish; Hebrew Synagogue, B. Woll Lutheran, Rev. Carl Goette; Grace Episcopal, Mrs. George Roop; Christ Episcopal, Mrs. G. M. Anderton; St. Paul's Episcopal, Mrs. Emmett Dunn; Salvation Army, Captain J. D. Hellwege; Colored citizens, Dr. J. M. Hopkins.

Questionnaires may be secured at the Chamber of Commerce, or by applying to Miss Esther Holliday Green, 123 North Washington Street. Telephone 475.

RESCUE OF 37 DUE TO ENGINEER

Chief of Black Gang Plays Heroic Role

DRILL ONLY WEAPON

Craft's Plight Told by Undershirt on Pole Through Opening—Story of Rescue.

Hoboken, N. J., Sept. 4.—The hero of the S-5 rescue, Chief Engineer W. R. Grace, of the steamship General Goethals, arrived here last night, actually blushing under the bronze of his tan at the acclaim that greeted him and trembling with a temporary palsy due to the vibration of his hand ratchetdrill.

It was Grace, chief of the Goethals' black gang, who perched on the slippery, wet hull of the submarine S-5 in the Atlantic Ocean last night and rapped away with the hand ratchet for many hours, punching a hole in the submarine's tough outer skin, through which her imprisoned crew of 37 United States sailors finally made their escape.

It was a happy crew that brought the Goethals into port and made her fast to Pier 1, just after dark. And as the liberty party sauntered ashore through the darkened water-front streets, they spread a tale of the engineer's heroism and devotion to the job which will live in the traditions of the sea. All hands were happy to have figured in the rescue of 37 other men from a horrible death by suffocation in the hold of the crippled diver. But they pointed to Engineer Grace, a reticent, soft spoken seafaring man, as the fellow who actually released the S-5's crew just in time to save their lives.

The plight of the S-5, after being submerged for 44 hours, was first learned by the steamship Alanthus, which accidentally discovered the submarine off the Delaware Capes yesterday afternoon with 30 feet of her stern protruding above the water. Capt. E. O. Swinson, of the steamship General George W. Goethals, declared. Earlier reports were that the General Goethals had located the distressed undersea vessel by means of a telephone bouy released from the submerged craft.

The crew of the submarine owe their lives, he said, to the quick work of Chief Engineer Grace, of the Goethals, and his assistant, R. A. McWilliams.

The imprisoned men, Captain Swinson said had cut a small hole through the hull and had stuck through a hole on which was flying an undershirt. The Alanthus was unable to rescue the crew, as she had no apparatus for cutting through the submarine's hull. The crew of the Alanthus, however, began pumping air through the small hole made by the undergea craft's crew.

"It was about 5.20 last night," Captain Swinson said, "when we sighted the Alanthus flying distress signals about 40 miles east of the Five Fathom lightHouse.

"We drew up alongside and found her made fast to the stern of the submarine by a cable. This cable was only to keep her from drifting away, as the submarine was perfectly bouyant. Her forward tanks were full and her after tanks empty, so that she was laying in the water at an angle

A BLOW TO LABOR UNIONS

Another blow at union labor is struck by union labor in the Hazleton, Pa., anthracite field. Twelve of the 83 collieries are idle and from 25,000 to 30,000 miners have quit work because of the award of the Anthracite Coal Commission, approved by President Wilson and announced this week.

This is not only a violation of their agreement to abide by the action of the commission, but it is a flagrant breach of the miners' contract with the operators. Collective bargaining is a right which should be respected and is generally conceded to by enlightened labor. Without it labor unions would lack one of the chief objects of their formation and one of the necessary instruments of their operation. But the continued recognition of that right depends upon the good faith of those who would exercise it. It cannot survive in the conduct of our industrial system unless it be observed as scrupulously by one side of the contract as by the other. There can be no object in dealing with workingmen collectively if they may when they please either collectively or individually break their contracts.

As President Wilson said in a telegram of flaying defiance to men who threatened a strike unless he set aside the award of the commission:

"Collective bargaining would soon cease to exist in industrial affairs if contracts solemnly entered into can be set aside by either party whenever it wills to do so. I am sure that the miners themselves woud vigorously protest against the injustice of the act if the President attempted to set aside the award of the commission because the operators had protested against it."

In this case, as in several others recently the miners break their contract by quitwork in contempt of the authority of their organization officials. It is plain enough that if the members of labor unions are not to obey their own officials or to observe the contracts which they made then there be no good reason for dealing with them collectively. This is a fact which the most influential of the unions understand and heed. When it is ignored, as in the case of the Hazleton miners, the cause of all union labor is the sufferer.

"COST OF VICTORY"

Nothing could be more characteristic of the Woman's Party—otherwise the militant suffragettes—than to speak of the victory in Tennessee as its victory and to send out appeals to raise $12,000 wherewith to pay the cost of victory.

The party led by Alice Paul is the party which did all that women could do toward making the cause odious. That organization probably retarded the suffrage victory and certainly did not get the ballot for women.

While "the wild women" as the National Woman's Party is called in Washington, cut countless capers which disgusted and annoyed lawmakers the National American Woman Suffrage Association worked quietly and effectively for the ballot for women. The more militants in jail for lawless antics, and therefore unable to approach members of Congress, the greater the hope of the "sane suffragists" to get the amendment adopted.

The "wild women," adepts at publicity, always have been loud claimants of credit for every advancement of the cause of votes for women. It is not surprising that they expect to collect $12,000 as the cost of victory in Tennessee.

A week or so ago Congressman Fred W. Britten, a Republican Congressman from Illinois, publicly charged that the British Embassy was contributing funds to the Democratic campaign. He was properly called before the Republican steering committee at Chicago and asked for his proof. Of course he had none and was compelled to admit he had none, explaining that he made the charge on merely his "opinion." Speakers like Britten should be confined, not to the front porch, but to the cellar.

The housekeeper was victimized by the sugar profiteers when the season of ripening began. The householder is victimized by the coal profiteers as the season of Jack Frost approaches. The canners and preservers got lower priced sugar. The large consumers are getting lower priced coal.

The death of two men as a result of a metal mail plane burning is a depressing tragedy, but it will be recalled that whenever an automobile tragedy was reported 20 years ago thousands reiterated their assertion that the automobile never would be safe or practical.

Market report show you can get a bushel of cantaloupes for $1. Trying to get a good cantaloupe always is a gamble, but when the odds against the dollar are as they are you can afford to gamble.

Nobody seems able to argue effectively that the increased freight rates are not noticeable in coal prices.

Sought By Police

Reported Robbed of $12,000 Automobile Recovered Here

Marine corps authorities at Quantico, Va., have requested the Washington police to arrest Major Harry Green, who on Monday reported that he had been robbed of $12,000 of $15,000 of post exchange funds which he was carrying to a bank. Green was reported to have left Quantico Thursday in his automobile. The roadster machine was recovered Thursday night in Alexandria.

The lookout for Major Green, printed in the official police bulletin yesterday, describes the officer as a man 38 years of age, 5 feet 6 inches in height, with smooth face, florid complexion and sandy colored hair. The police departments at Alexandria and Fredericksburg also have been requested to assist in the search for Green.

According to the first report to reach Washington following the disappearance of the funds, Green, who was intrusted to carry the funds to a Fredericksburg bank, was assaulted and robbed by a civilian in a house where Green had gone to change his clothes.

A board of inquiry was appointed to investigate the matter, and Gen. Smedley Butler, commandant of the post, declared that there was no doubt in the minds of officers at the post that the robbery was committed by a civilian.

An automobile answering the description of Green's car and bearing the correct Virginia license number was found by the Alexandria police abandoned at the corner of King and Henry streets Thursday evening. The machine was turned over to marines from Quantico, who presented an order for the car signed by Lieut. Col. Holcomb.

of 60 degrees, with 30 feet of hull above water.

"The Alanthus explained the submarine's plight and said she was unable to give any aid other than pumping air through the small hole. The Alanthus had a radio outfit but no operator, so I sent one of our radio men over to her. By 6 o'clock Grace, MacWilliams and four other men were standing on the submarine's hull drilling for all they were worth with only one small hand rachet drill. The Alanthus' radio was only good for a 20-mile range, so we relayed their messages with out outfit. I sent messages to Cape May, Philadelphia, Norfolk and New York, telling of the submarine's plight, and calling for aid as I didn't think we would be able to cut through the hull with out one little drill.

"At 9.15 the Alanthus flashed us that Grace had a number of holes drilled through, and the men were greatly relieved. I sent out the message, but still called for help.

"Later the Hunt, an oil tanker, arrived, after picking up our message. She had an electric drill, but we found it was useless. She stood by several hours and finally left, finding she could offer no assistance.

"In the meantime Grace and MacWilliams were taking turns with the hand drill, and finally at 1.20 a. m. after hours of the hardest kind of work, a hole was cut through large enough for the men to escape.

"The first man was taken out at 1.25, and by 2.45, the last man, Lieut. Com. Charles M. Cooke, jr., climbed through the hole.

"The men from the submarine revived quickly, after being put aboard the Alanthus, where they were given hot soup and put to bed. Many were bleeding at the mouth and nose, their faces were swollen and their eyes bloodshot, but they still had plenty of spirit.

"All credit for the rescue belongs to Grace and MacWilliams. If over men were heroes, they were."

The submarine crew was later transferred to the battleship Ohio and the Alanthus returned to Norfolk.

OLD DOMINION WORKERS LOSE

Injunction to Prevent Discharge of Union Men Refused in Court

The right of employers to discharge union employes was recognized yesterday by Justice Frederick L. Siddons of the District Supreme Court.

This decision was rendered in denying an injunction to members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen against the Washington and Old Dominion Railway to prevent discharge of employes who affiliated with the union.

The contention of counsel for the railroad that it is an interurban or suburban railway and therefore excepted from the provisions of the transportation act was overruled by Justice Siddons, who finds that the Washington and Old Dominion Railway is a common carrier.

SPORTS

The Dreadnaught Athletic Club, of this city, will face a worthy opponent Sunday at 3 p. m. on the High School Grounds when the Brentwood A. C. claimants of the Southern Maryland Championsip comes here for the first time this season. The latter named team have recently defeated the Brookland A. C. who stood in line for the above honors, and the only club now standing in their way is the Silver Spring (Md.) aggregation. Manager Jesse Weidman, of the Brentwoods, writes that he will be here Sunday with a fast club and is certain of putting up an interesting battle with the locals. Dick Woodward will umpire this game.

Dreadnaught Juniors who have won 25 and lost no games this season and the All Stars who have a collection of the best junior players in the city will play the first game of a series of three for the junior championship of Northern Va., at the Shipyard Diamonds, 10:30 Labor Day morning Blunt or Smith will pitch for the big D, while "Speedking" Bartlett will probably uphold the pitching for the Stars.

An All-Star aggregation of crack ball tossers from the section of Virginia round Culpeper, Orange, Charlottesville and Remington will be the big "D's" opponents Labor Day, giving the fans two fast games, the first to start at 10.30 a. m. and the second game 3 p. m. Manager Mumford, of Remington, asserts that the team he will bring here is the fastest that can be gathered together in that section, and it is the policy of the management of the locals to give every Virginia club the preference over Washington aggregation for the balance of the season, having already taken in the "scalps" of the Fredericksburg White Sox, to the tune of 14 to 1. They being the best club in that section of the State.

Cox To Tour West

Charges Perjury by Slush Fund Witnesses

Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 4.—Suggestion of perjury in the Chicago investigation by the Senate committee of the Republican campaign contributions was made here last night by Governor Cox, Democratic Presidential candidate, in a speech closing the first day of his Western campaign.

Referring to denials by Republican leaders of his Pittsburgh charges that a Republican quota list of $8,145,000 was made for 51 cities, Governor Cox said to his audience here:

"You know that when denial was made at Chicago of the existence of a quota, men were deliberately telling an untruth and telling it under oath."

The Governor's statement here closed a day in which he delivered 16 addresses devoted largely to Republican finances and the League of Nations. At Battle Creek he discussed Article 10 of the League covenant for the first time since his acceptance address, declaring its import was an international warning to "keep off the grass" of other nations' boundary lines.

Republican contributions were discussed at length here.

"It first was denied by Mr. Hays that there was a quota," said Governor Cox, again presenting the "official bulletin" of the Republican treasurer with its statements regarding reports of full "quotas" and oversubscriptions.

"If the leaders who have taken possession of the Republican organization will tell an untruth under oath, titled to the support of the rank and file this fall?

"We have established, I think, the existence of a quota. Is there anyone who denies that they're trying to put something over and don't want anybody to know about it?

"Mr. Hays and his associates may think they can fool the men of America by that kind of twaddle," the Governor continued, referring to I ask you if that organization is entitled to the support of the rank and file this fall?

Governor Cox also reiterated his charges of an "enormous" Republican fund and that important business interests were "trying" to buy a government underhold.

"Regardless of denials," the candidate declared, "I repeat the charge and will continue to press that charge until the second of November."

Asking why business interests should seek an advantage, the Democratic candidate repeated assertions that banking interests were seeking to change the Federal Reserve act, industrial interests trying to "buy the use of the bayonet in strikes," and that the meat-packing interests were opposing Government regulation of cold sterage.

In closing his Michigan tour tonight Governor Cox, who did not reach here until 9.30, repeated former arguments for the League and also attacks on the "Senate oligarchy." He paid a tribute to the presiding officers, Mrs. O. H. Clark, of the local Woman Voters' League, who had a husband and two sons in the war.

Local flavor was given by the Governor to his addresses by constant reference to the election fraud case of Senator Newberry, Republican, of Michigan. The candidate declared that an attempt was being made by the Republican contributions "to Newberryize the nation."

Reading from a list of prominent men named in the subscription list, Governor Cox added:

"These men are not making contributions to my fund. And there are three very definite reasons. First, they haven't been asked; second, they wouldn't be permitted to, and, third, they probably wouldn't if they had the chance because they don't approve of my policies."

tions under the head of beneficial legislation, which were offered by National Committeeman John J. Wicker, Jr., just prior to his original reading of the resolution favoring the bonus bill, which precipitated countless motions and countermotions and ultimately came to naught, with the coerced adjournment on the part of the delegates unwilling to prevent passage of a motion granting unlimited debate on the bonus.

Norfolk was unanimously selected as the city in which the 1921 gathering will convene, but the committee report recommending the first three days of September as the dates for the convention was amended to leave the selection of dates optional with the State executive committee. It was the majority sentiment that the convention should be held the week after Labor Day instead of the first week in the month, because the holiday spirit interferes with a full attendance of delegates.

The delegates were late in assembling yesterday, it being after 3 o'clock before Commander Stuart's gavel brought them to order. The convention was faced with the necessity of adjourning in the close neighborhood of 4.30 at the latest because of the plans of the Kiwanis Club for the entertainment of the delegates with an outo tour and supper before the Richmond Post dance in the evening at the Country Club of Virginia.

This fact was laid before the convention by National Committeeman Wicker, who also is chairman of the beneficial legislation committee, after he had obtained passage of four resolutions dealing with minor phases of his work and had offered the proposal that 11 o'clock today be set as the hour for taking up the bonus matter under a special order of business. He stated that he did not believe there was time enough remaining at the afternoon session to adequately handle the matter.

Opposition to his scheme was rife immediately following his motion which provided that debate be limited to an hour for each side, with the majority both opening and closing. Various substitute motions and amendments were offered, on which both standing and viva voce votes were taken. Finally, by the latter method, a majority of 12 was obtained against the plan to have a limited debate today.

Then a motion for open discussion of the bonus problem was entertained, but before it could be put through minority shouters repeatedly demanded of Commander Stuart that a roll call vote be taken. It was ruled that the convention had to vote on this along, but this vote was finally waived, and the commander directed that the roll call be taken. John T. Cutchins, for Richmond Post, had barely cast the first vote on the roll call when cries of "Adjourn" came from all quarters of the hall. After being seconded, the motion was carried.

Richmond Commander John T. Cutchins had been one of the strong advocates of unlimited discussion and he cast the vote of the local delegation against the resolution after a spirited controversy with Delegate Wicker, whom he, at first, declared had to allow his alternate to vote for him because of his position on the legion's national committee. This ruling later was reversed, and an apology followed by Cutchins for an infringement of Wicker's rights.

The four resolutions which went through before the bonus dispute disrupted proceedings may be summarized as follows: First, in support of the Stevenson bill, which provides the same measure of relief for National Guard officers and men as for regular army men; second in support of the extension of family allowances to the dependents of married service men so that they may remain in the army and train the recruits rather than resign to seek more lucrative positions for the support of their families in the present era of high living; third, in support of the plan to retire army veterans after fifteen twenty or twenty-five years' service at one-half, two-thirds and three quarters pay, respectively, as is done in the navy, instead of requiring them to wait thirty years as at present, and then receive only half pay. fourth in support of the Wasson bill, which amplifies the relief measures for the wounded and dependents of dead heroes granted by the Sweet bill last December.

After Chairman Wicker had offered the above resolutions he stated that in his committee of fifteen there was a majority of ten in favor of the "fourfold optional relief bill," which is the present official designation of the bonus plan.

Two sessions of the legion will be held today, the first at 9.30 and the second at such a time as may be set at the time of adjournment in the morning.

J. T. ANDERSON MEETS DEATH AT OWN HANDS

Richmond, Va., Sept. 4.—John T. Anderson, one of the best known business and club men of Richmond, killed himself instantly yesterday morning in his town residence, 908 Franklin street. The death wound was inflicted with a shotgun, the muzzle of which he had placed to his mouth and pressed the trigger with a walking cane.

Contents of two notes left, one to his wife and the other to his brother Archer Anderson, Jr., are unknown, but it is the theory of his friends and relatives that he became despondent over ill health. He suffered a stroke of paralysis about one year ago.

Misses Annie and Nellie Peverill, of Alexandria, and Miss Inez Reed, of Washington, are spending the week-end in Harrisonburg, Va., and before returning home will visit Luray Cave.

POWER, sturdiness and dependability have been qualities of Buick Valve-in-Head Motor Cars from the time that the name Buick first became linked with the automobile industry. Today, in equal measure as in the past, the Buick Motor Company is dedicated to a continuance of the policy that has caused the Buick car to occupy the position it holds in the public mind.

The new Buick line comprises seven models, one for every possible demand. Each has the famed Buick Valve-in-Head Motor, as rugged and powerful as ever, yet refined into a mechanism [illegible]

The improved radiator, hood and cowl lines give a finished touch of trimness to the body, yet without any sacrifice of Buick individuality.

A more resilient spring suspension gives these new Buick models a riding comfort as delightful as their exterior appearance is pleasing.

TIRES OF CELL JOYRIDES

Jailer Lets Jack Johnson Eat Meals at Cafe and Shall Sheets

Chicago, Sept. 4—"Sorry but he has just stepped out, gone for an automobile ride," said the deputy sheriff to a visitor who called at the Kane County, Ill., jail to see Jack Johnson, former pugilistic champion, who is a Federal prisoner under conviction on Mann act charges.

"Was that him I saw 'getting into an automobile with some women?" asked the visitor, disregarding grammar.

"Yes" replied the deputy.

Night riding is enjoyable during harvest time in Kane County. The visitor waited several hours but Jack did not return.

Jail is not boring the former champion a great deal, according to stories told by the people of Geneva, where the jail is located. Rumor says he is training for a fight and is visited frequently by promoters from Chicago.

He is said to get up at 8.30, take a bath and order breakfast from a restaurant, giving a liberal tip to the waiter. During the morning he reads and writes on the story of his adventures in Mexico. Dinner is served in a nearby cafe. In the late afternoon he trains for the fight.

At night, it is said, he often walks about the town or takes his friends auto riding.

GOOD BILLS FOR WEEK

Maybe you feel that you have trouble enough at home. Of a certain sort, you may have. But there are some trouble makers outside of your home that you will greatly enjoy. And if you go to the Richmond Theatre tonight to see "The Joyous Troublemakers," you will decide with us that there are troublemakers that can furnish no end of amusement at any time and any place. The famous William Farnum is the star of this great William Fox photoplay and Louise Lovely plays opposite this great star. It is a comedy drama scintillating with refined humor, seasoned with thrilling moments and staged with fascinating beauty.

Monday and Tuesday the Richmond will offer one of the greatest films ever directed by that wonderful genius of filmland, Marshall Neilan, when it presents to its patrons the great newspaper play, "Go and Get It." An all star cast features this great picture.

Ethel Clayton "The Young Mrs. Winthrop," a Paramount special will be the attraction at the Richmon on Wednesday, together with a Mack Sennett comedy, "Back to the Kitchen." Another great Paramount Artcraft story is to be shown on Thursday, when Elsie Ferguson appears in "His House in Order."

The first of his own pictures will show on Friday and Saturday at the Richmond, the incomparable William S. Hart in "The Toll Gate." Hart claims that this is the best picture he has ever made and every motion picture fan will do well to see this picture.

The offerings at the Ingomar during the coming week are out of the ordinary run of pictures and the agreeable change in the weather augurs well for attendance next week. The first bill is for Monday when Ethel Clayton will be the attraction in "The Ladder of Lies." Also Chapter 14 of "The Lurking Peril." Irene Castle appears in the Paramount-Artcraft picture, "The Amateur Wife," on Tuesday and the following day. Eileen Percy the star of "The Third Eye," is shown in "Her Honor the Mayor." Thursday's special promises any number of thrills when Bert Lytell is shown in the big Metro special, "The Lion's Den."

Friday will see another comedy by the funniest girl on the screen, Dorothy Gish, who appears in "Mary Ellen Comes to Town," and for the last day of the week, one of the greatest Paramount-Artcraft pictures ever shown here, Robert Warwick in "Thou Art the Man."

MOVIES

IDLE HOUR TODAY

The big Vitagraph special production from James Oliver Curwood's famous novel, "The Courage of Marge O'Doone," will be shown at the Idle Hour Theatre today. It is a story of strong men and brave hearts living in the broad expanse of territory north of 53. The players, everyone a star braved the dangers of a blizzard in the Rocky mountains in order to get realism. The picture was taken in Truckee, far away from the regular trails, an unbroken wilderness. Here some of the most thrilling scenes of the picture were enacted amid real dangers under the direction of David Smith.

DRYS ARREST TWO MAYORS

Chicago, Sept. 3.—The villages of Chicago Ridge and Lemont, Ill., are some distance apart geographically, but they are comrades in misfortune.

Two weeks ago Federal prohibition agents raided Lemont and arrested nine persons, including its Mayor, on charges of violation of the prohibition act. Today the same agents visited Chicago Ridge. When they were through Charles Polkow, chief executive of the village, was in a position to shake hands with his Lemont cotemporary.

In addition to Mayor Polkow the Federal agents arrested three others. Mayor Polkow in his spare moments ran a "soft drink" parlor. The prohibition agents confiscated three barrels of whisky they said they found in Mayor Polkow's bedroom.

ALEXANDRIA WITNESSES

The Names or Alexandria Persons Familiar To All

Who Are the Witnesses?

They are Alexandria people—

Residents of Alexandria who have had kidney backache, kidney ills, bladder ills, who have used Doan's Kidney Pills. These witnesses endorse Doan's.

One Alexandria resident who speaks is B. C. Hall, 115 South Payne St., He says: "My kidneys were so sore I could hardly get up or down. I was so weak and lame across my back it was all I could do to bend over and lace up my shoes. I was always in misery no matter what position I was in. On top of all that I suffered from headaches and nervousness and my kidneys acted so freely at night I couldn't get any rest. When someone told me about Doan's Kidney Pills I was about used up. I got Doan's at Ashton's Drug Store and you can believe me I was surprised at the quick cure I got. I have had no return of kidney trouble since using Doan's".

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Hall had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

ROYAL ELECTRIC CLEANER
Cleans by Air—Alone!

The Dirt You Cannot See

NO true housekeeper is satisfied with more surface cleanliness. The family's health and her own peace of mind demands the complete removal of hidden dirt with its lurking germs as well as that which can readily be seen on the surface.

Dirt cannot resist the powerful, purifying air stream of the Royal. It gets all the dirt on the rug, deep down in the rug and even underneath.

Draperies, furniture, walls, ceilings, mouldings and "out-of-the-way" corners and crannies all quickly and easily yield their toll of dirt and dust to the Royal, which cleans by air—alone!
